

To whom it may concern

Watershed recently Project Managed a major construction project at our school. Vicki Russell, who was the Project Manager, ensured that lines of communication were clear, regular meetings were held with the Client, Construction Company and Architect; that any problems that arose were dealt with immediately and with all parties being "kept in the loop". Her excellent management style and expertise enabled everything to flow smoothly, with the project being completed on time and within budget. I am happy to recommend this company.
